THE CITY.

MONDAY'S EXPRESS.

There will be a great crowd here on Monday, and during the week. Advertisers should bear in mind that the Express is the only paper printed on Monday morning.

More Cuban Expeditions.

The telegraph brings reports of the starting from American shores of two more Cuban expeditions, under Generals Goicoechea and Steedman. With these and the two Cuban privateers said to be on the high seas, there's a pretty good chance for our government to get into complications with foreign governments.

Notice to Subscribers.

The EXPRESS will be delivered hereafter, on the route between Fourth and Tenth streets, by Henry Hargrave, to whom payment should be made.

The First Delegate.

The first delegate to the Commercial Convention arrived this morning. Mr. Wm. Brooks, of the firm of Brooks & Miller, of Chestnut street, Philadelphia, has come a few days in advance to enjoy a short vacation from labor among some friends.

The Grand Procession.

The committee of the Commercial Convention held a meeting last night, at which the procession committee reported progress, and were continued and instructed to act in conjunction with the committee appointed by the Council Thursday evening.

Arrived.

Eight of the Sisters of Mercy arrived in the city last night, and are stopping at Cedar Grove Academy, Portland. These are the first of this order ever in the city, and they are from St. Louis. They take charge of the United States Marine Hospital on the 8th inst.

Commission.

In the list of appointments to the churches of the city made at the recent session of the Louisville Conference of the M. E. Church, South, the Twelfth street charge was omitted. We are informed that Rev. J. S. Scoles has been appointed, and will conduct the services to-morrow.

Resumed.

A week ago this day, as everybody thought, our regular line-storm had begun with every prospect of continuing; but Sunday broke off the rain with a cold wind, and the whole week has passed in sunshine. But the storm was resumed about ten o'clock this morning, and, if not again interrupted, may be expected to drop its superfluous waters for some time to come.

New Music.

We are indebted to Mr. D. P. Faulds, publisher, No. 70 Main street, for the following new music just from the press: All Hunk-eye Dori Schottische, by Jno. A. Metcalfe; Sweet Love, Good-Night to Thee, ballad, by L. Hatton; Katey's Letter, by Lady Dufferin, and Love's Request, by Reichardt, with German and English words. Price of each piece 50 cents.

St. Louis Air-Line.

The Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening passed the ordinance subscribing half a million of dollars to the St. Louis Air-Line Railroad, but changed the date of the popular vote to the 16th instant--this day two weeks. Our New Albany friends feel confident this action will assure the immediate building of the road, and it is to be hoped the work will be commenced at the earliest possible moment.

Railroad Accident.

Yesterday morning an accident occurred on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad about two and a half miles out, by which Mr. John Ealy, a brakeman, was very seriously injured. He was passing from the front box car back to the locomotive, when his foot slipped and he fell. He caught the wheel of the brake, and attempted to swing himself back on the roof, but his feet struck the truck, and his hand was broken. He fell between the cars, and as the train was moving very slowly the brake in front of the trucks threw him off the track. His injuries, however, are very severe, as he fell on his back across the rail, causing him to lose all use of his feet and legs. He was sent to his home in West Union.

MILITIA IN MARION.

Are Fired on by Bushwhackers.

The Militia Give Pursuit.

A SOLDIER KILLED.

The telegraph advises us that one of Captain Leavy's militia was killed in Springfield, Ky., yesterday, by one Rollins. It originated, no doubt, in a personal alteration; but there was much excitement over it.

On Saturday night there was a slight skirmish between the troops and the regulators in Washington county. Three of the latter fired on the troops while they were in camp, but hurt no one. The troops made pursuit and fired in turn on the outlaws, who made their escape in the woods. No one was hurt on either side.

We are reliably informed that Captain Leavy's command are well-disciplined and perfectly orderly. There is no robbery or pillaging to be laid to their account. But this was to be expected from the command of that experienced officer and of Capt. Leavy. He is a gentleman as well as a true soldier.

GRAND BANQUET.

Concert, Trip on the River, &c. A special committee of five gentlemen, Messrs. Charles R. Long, Julius Dorn, Phil. T. German, Henry Wehmhoff and Captain D. B. Harris, to whom the whole matter had been referred, reported, last night, at the general meeting of the committees, the following programme for the entertainment of the delegates to the Commercial Convention, and the invited guests. It will be seen that no pains nor expense will be spared to make their stay in the city a grand carnival of enjoyment.

First. That a banquet shall be given in honor of the guests and delegates to the convention, for which purpose the Glover Hall Rink is recommended, and appropriations made for feasting the guests. To carry out the resolutions of the meeting, the following banquet committee was appointed, viz.: Messrs. Julius Dorn, E. Craig, J. E. Johnston, Col. Blanton Duncan.

Blood will Tell.

Last evening a young woman, supposed to be about twenty years old, and who is said to live at a bawdy-house on Lafayette street, between Floyd and Preston, was deserted by her lover and, to soothe her jealousy thereof, put off to a saloon and drank copiously, and she became uproariously drunk. The drink did not mend matters, for she became weary of the world and ripped out great oaths and slung her bare arms in all directions. At the corner of Lafayette and Preston, Dr. Vanderesep has a drug store. Stopping opposite his show window, which was filled with specimens of shells, minerals, corals, &c., &c., her feelings overcame her, and she let drive at the window with all her force, first with three hundred dollars to answer.

Michael Keuchell, vagrant, was held in prison in police circles, had a little round yesterday with John Williams, another lawyer, in which the aforesaid Martin Alonzo came to grief. Mr. Williams was before court this morning on charge of assault and battery. Examination waived and Williams held to answer.

Louis Garvin, cutting and wounding Henry Page with intent to kill; one of the witnesses deposed that Page struck Garvin on the "south" side of his jaw. It is probable that the Circuit Court will determine which the south side may be as Garvin was held in $400 bonds to answer.

The shirt of Chris. Showers had been placed on the outside of too much "benzine," and this consequently affected his "choler," a fee of $3 and his note for $100, at thirty days, was requested for setting things to rights.

Joseph Getty was presented on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. His mother was the principal witness against him. Joe has just been released from the House of Refuge, and his mother wanted him returned to that place.

This could not be done as he was over the age that is set by law for entrance to that institution. On promise of future good conduct the Judge discharged him, and at the same time notified him that if he was again brought before him in ten or one year he would be given him at the Workhouse.

Michael Carroll and Henry Miller had been imbibing too freely and gave vent to the fire that burned within them to such an extent as endangered the "high mow" of Marshall street. The fear of these "sparks" was such as to induce a contribution of $5 apiece to the city fire department and their bond in $200 that they should keep down the fire that burned within them for 60 days.

The court took alarm at the presence of "so much fire" and adjourned for the purpose of "wetting up."

COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.

Letter from General Jno. E. Johnston.

We publish a letter from one of the greatest men living, Col. Duncan, who was on Gen. Johnston's staff at the first battle of Bull Run, has telegraphed urging his old chieftain to arrange his affairs so as to come anyhow, and we trust that it will be accomplished. Gen. Johnston is a statesman as well as a warrior, and his counsels would be listened to:

SAVANNAH, September 25, 1869.

MY DEAR COLONEL--I thank you most cordially for the invitation to the Southern Commercial Convention so kindly sent me. It would gratify me very much, on every account, to avail myself of it. But it is impossible that I shall be able to do so.

An important business obligation compels me to go to the North very soon, and will detain me there until after the 12th of October.

I regret this very much, for the proceedings of the convention, likely to have a very important influence upon the prosperity of the South, would be highly interesting to me. And I should expect to meet many of our friends assembled in Louisville on such an occasion, and to derive great pleasure from intercourse with them.

Yours very truly, J. E. JOHNSTON.

Col. Blanton Duncan.

TOWN TOPICS.

Medico-Chirurgical Society.

There will be a meeting of this society this evening, at eight o'clock, at the hall of the Board of Aldermen. Business of importance will be transacted, and a full attendance is desired.

THE TRADE WIND.

Arrival of the Crew.

From the N. O. Picayune.

THE VACANT MAINE SENATORSHIP.

Special to the N. Y. Evening Post.

WASHINGTON, September 29.

A private letter from a prominent Republican in Maine says there will be a warm contest for the Senatorship made vacant by the death of Mr. Fessenden. The most prominent candidates are Speaker Blaine, ex-Senator Morrill, ex-Governor Washburn, General Shepley and Governor Chamberlain.

Under the law the Governor only has the power to appoint until the assembling of the Legislature, which meets in January, and the friends of Chamberlain are endeavoring to induce him to do so, at all, for fear that in so doing he will injure his own chances before the Legislature.

Speaker Blaine and friends are strong and hopeful.

Chapman Sisters.

Don't forget to prepare yourselves for a week of side-splitting laughter, beginning on Monday.

The Chapman sisters and Bishop, the comedian, open that evening in Weisiger Hall, in both comedy and burlesque. We have already given a short synopsis of the "Checkmate," the new comedy with which they begin their appearance, and there is no doubt the public in general

WEDNESDAY'S PANIC

Intense Excitement.

Vanderbilt's Frantic Efforts to Save N. Y. Central.

Who is Responsible for the Failures?

From the New York World, Thursday.

The crash in stocks soon after noon set the whole neighborhood in a fury. As stocks had previously stiffened (some quotations being 10 per cent. better than the closing ones of Tuesday night), false, feverish hopes had been engendered which suddenly collapsed and were smothered in what threatened to be general ruin. Then the Long Room was the arena of a battle of demons. The men who went in there and swarmed together within the inclosure at the west end, behaved, for half an hour and more, after the manner of utter lunatics: shouts, yells, snarls, yelps and howls were emitted from human lungs, until the place resounded like a den of infuriated beasts of prey. Hats were swung aloft, clenched fists were raised, memorandum books fluttered over the heads of the throng, and bids were shrieked out with all the despairing might of the voices of speculators to whom the chances of a minute were worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In that half hour of frenzy the faces of men grew brutal, their hearts turned cold, their lips white, their foreheads red and purple. Out and into the den they rushed, chewing their mustaches, plucking at their cigars in two with savage teeth. They ran against and cursed each other. A few emerged completely exhausted and broken down. Others assumed a haggard hilarity and emitted occasional recklessness.

Down the street, drawn up close to the curbstone, stood a close carriage, through the side window of which a young and lovely lady sat, alone, waiting. Soon after the crash at the stock exchange, a man of about thirty years, richly dressed, handsome, but with his cravat awry and a face full of pain and trouble, came out of the long room, caught sight of the carriage and moved hesitatingly towards it. As he drew near to the carriage window, the lady inside was heard to utter a startled exclamation and to call him familiarly by name.

"What—oh, what has happened to you?"

"Nothing," said the gentleman, lifting his eyes and looking into her face with the queerest smile; "nothing, except that I am just hopelessly ruined—gone quite to the devil!"

This turned out true not in one instance only. Soon it seemed that the devil would have a levee, at which half the big firms and most of the little ones in the region would be represented.

From the Tribune.

Many exciting scenes occurred during the day. When the announcement was made that the Gold Exchange Bank had a receiver appointed, and was in possession of deputy sheriffs, numbers of excited people repaired thither. The doors were locked, and three persons stood guard within. Whether they were deputies or not did not transpire. When the rumor of Lockwood & Co.'s failure was heard, many hurried there to obtain the truth of the report, but none of the employes would give any satisfactory reply.

"Nothing," said the gentleman, lifting his eyes and looking into her face with the queerest smile; "nothing, except that I am just hopelessly ruined—gone quite to the devil!"

What then? the chief distinction, the chief glory of Mr. A. T. Stewart?

It is best stated by quoting his own words: "It is the principle of truth. I am in a state of continual warfare to prevent what are called white lies being told in my establishment."

That is it; that is the chief glory of Mr. Stewart. He may go on accumulating wealth; if he live long enough, he may swell his millions to billions. He may sleep his last sleep in a gorgeous tomb, and his general health is improving fast. He joins me in recommending them to the public for their great medicinal qualities.

The question of making further removals of supporters of the Conservative ticket in Texas and Mississippi was discussed favorably, but nothing was done.

FINANCIAL.

The financial situation was talked over, and Mr. Boutwell stated that he had received numerous appeals from merchants and importers since last Friday's panic to do something to settle the money market, so that legitimate business could be transacted, but that he had resolved to make no change in his policy as laid down for October.

THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

It was telegraphed from New York that a strong delegation of merchants and importers left that city yesterday for the purpose of holding a conference with the President to-day on the disturbed condition of financial affairs. No such delegation, however, has arrived here. It is said that the importers think the President can do something to relieve them from embarrassment in the present unsettled condition of the money market.

On Wednesday General Butterfield was requested to ask Secretary Boutwell if he would not modify his programme so far as the selling of ten millions of gold during the next month was concerned. General Butterfield and received positive instructions that the line of action already determined on by the Secretary would not be in any way disturbed. The merchants and importers thereupon determined to send an influential delegation to consult with the President and request him to allow the Secretary discretionary powers so that he may sell the gold in such quantities and at such times as will best regulate the market.

MARSHAL LOGAN'S FRAUDS.

The charges of official misconduct against John Logan, Marshal of the Southern District of Illinois, mentioned in these dispatches last night, are based on statements of his deputy, who alleges that he made up the accounts himself, which were fraudulent, but he omits to charge that these frauds were suggested by or known to Logan.

THE CANTASS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Commissioned Delano has returned here from Pennsylvania, but is very blue over the Radical prospects. He thinks the result will be close anyway. Democratic advice here appear to have no doubt whatever of Asa Packard's election for Governor.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

The Spanish Min's or got off another prophecy to-day, based, he says, on information from Madrid, to the effect that the Cuban revolution will not last six weeks longer. He says the Spanish news from Havana makes the time still less.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Chef Jardine Chase and Justice Clifford, of the Supreme Court of the United States, have arrived in town. The remaining Justices are expected here to-morrow, and the term of the court will commence next Monday and last through the spring months.

SMALL NOTES.

The Treasury Department still reports its inability to supply small notes and currency. The small notes will be issued to be held by banks and the fractional money coined in slowly from the Bank Note Co.

THE TURF.

Trotting Races at Mystic Park, National Forest Park. The track is to-day under 6,000 people were present. The first race was for horses that had never beaten three minutes. Dan Mace's Drift, Barnham's "None Sack," of Hartford, and Wyman's gray gelding, or Fox Craft, started. The first heat was won by "None Sack" in 28:28. At the close of the race the horses, the jockeys, and the race and all parts and bets on the consequences of unfairness on the part of the drivers.

The great race was the trot for $3,000 for all horses. Lady Thorn, Goldsmith Maid, Geo. Palmer, and the like, were present.

Geo. Palmer was the first to take the lead.

Goldsmith Maid taking the second money, and Geo. Palmer, second in the first two heats, taking the third money. American Girl acted badly and was some distance behind in all three heats. Time 2:20:4, 2:20:4, and 2:20. Lady Thorn was last when taken out of the stable, but was the favorite at six to four against the field.

FEARFUL CALAMITY.

Boiler Explosion on the Indiana-pa Fair Grounds.

19 Killed and 100 Seriously
Wounded.

Heart-rending Scenes.

Names of the Killed and Partial List of Wounded.

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, October 1.—There is a terrible accident occurred at the State Fair this afternoon. The boiler of Sinker & Co., of this city, exploded a few minutes before 4 o'clock. There was an immense crowd on the ground at the time of the accident, and it is difficult to get the particulars. It is known that 12 persons were instantly killed, and the number wounded will probably reach 100.

SECOND DISPATCH.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—The accident at the fair grounds this afternoon is the most heart-rending that has ever occurred in this vicinity, and has cast a gloom over the entire city.

The explosion occurred a few minutes before four o'clock, when the grounds were crowded with visitors.

The boiler was attached to a saw-mill of Sinker & Co., of this city, and had just been fired up for a test of speed with another sawing machine. Arrangements were made to take it up as soon as the trial was over.

So far as can be ascertained to-night there were nineteen persons killed. The excitement and confusion to-night is so great that it is difficult to obtain a correct list of the wounded, but it is thought the number will reach nearly one hundred.

THE KILLED.

The following are the names of the killed:

P. L. Davis, of Indianapolis. A. M. Boulden, Fort Wayne, Ind.

John Gouling, Indianapolis. Dan'ly Long, Fayetteville, Ind.

Levi Wilson, Indianapolis.

Mo. R. H. Johnson, Paragon, Ind.

L. B. McVeigh, student of Asbury University, Greensboro, Ind.

Mr. Jackson, Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Kitzerow, Indianapolis.

A. L. Johnson, Indianapolis, and a little girl 7 or 8 years old, and five men, names unknown.

Most of the dead were removed to W. W. Weaver's undertaker's office, where an inquest will probably be held to-morrow.

Many of the bodies are horribly mangled and burned, and in some cases it will be almost impossible for their friends to recognize them. Many of the most severely wounded were conveyed to the Indiana Surgical Institute, the name of which is not known, and the stock captured was the Chryssenes, as the Sioux had their stock in camp.

The following order has been issued by G. M. Jackson, Department, Washington.—

To Brevel Colson, W. G. Mitchell, Acting Adjutant General, Department of Maryland:

I have the honor to report that the Indians who crossed the railroad at Greenfield's Station, on the Kansas Pacific railroad, on the 9th of August, have arrived at this camp and asked for peace. They number about 130, and are 60 men, 60 women, and 10 children.

They have 60 horses.

They are armed with bows and arrows.

They have enough of fighting. All of the stock captured was the Chryssenes, as the Sioux had their stock in camp.
